

Margaret Kinnaird

Dr. Margaret Kinnaird lives in Nairobi, Kenya and currently leads WWF-International's Wildlife Practice. She is a global authority on wildlife conservation with over 30 years of international experience working on endangered species and protected area management, and building capacity of young, developing nation scientists. Margaret has authored 2 books, over 75 scientific articles, and numerous popular articles. She sits on the boards of TRAFFIC, Wildlife Direct, and the International Gorilla Conservation Program, and serves on the IUCN World Commission on Protected Areas.